A: Because you are running PHP from the command line, that means that you are not using any of MAMP's Apache configuration. You should add an additional section to the config. Options Indexes FollowSymLinks AllowOverride All Order allow,deny Allow from all ScriptAlias /php/ /Applications/MAMP/htdocs/~username/index.php AddType application/x-httpd-php.php.phtml Acute haemorrhagic leucoencephalitis: a case of infarction in the caudate and putamen. Three cases of acute haemorrhagic leucoencephalitis (HLE) are described. All patients were young males, and the clinical course was characterized by unspecific symptoms--lethargy, myoclonus, areflexia, increased intracranial pressure, high fever and focal neurological signs--with a fulminating course during the first days of the disease. MRI showed a symmetrical caudate and putamen infarction in all 3 cases. Haemorrhages in the basal ganglia were not present. Haemorrhages and infarctions are suggested as the pathophysiological mechanisms in these cases.Q: Improving performance of ArcGIS API for Javascript When working with
